Exhibit B - Authorization to Act

Attached to the Carrier Master Service Agreement

Client authorizes Electro Pionir DOOEL, doing business as Credyx A/R Solutions ("Credyx"), as defined in the Carrier Master Service Agreement, to act as Client's accounts-receivable and back-office agent as follows.

1. Authority granted

Client authorizes Credyx to, on Client's behalf:

1. Prepare and submit invoice packets and supporting paperwork to brokers, shippers, payors, and their AP contacts.
2. Communicate by email, phone, portal, or other reasonable means regarding invoice acceptance, document deficiencies, holds, disputes, and payment status.
3. Provide Client's remittance instructions and include Client-supplied banking evidence (such as a voided check or bank letter) with invoice packets so payment is directed to Client.
4. Request status updates and payment information related to Client's invoices handled through Credyx.
5. Keep Client informed of material holds, disputes, and payment confirmations known to Credyx.

2. Limits of authority

This authorization does not authorize Credyx to:

- purchase, factor, or take assignment of Client's invoices;
- receive or deposit freight payments from brokers into Credyx-controlled accounts as payment of Client's freight (unless a separate written escrow/instruction expressly says otherwise - default is none);
- modify Rate Confirmations, Bills of Lading, PODs, or other source document substance (readability enhancement and data extraction only, per the MSA);
- change Client's bank letter, voided check, or remittance instructions;
- bind Client to new freight contracts or carrier-broker agreements; or
- act as Client's attorney-at-law.

3. Client representations

Client represents that:

- Client owns the receivables and has authority to invoice the applicable brokers/payors (or is otherwise authorized to have Credyx submit on Client's behalf).

- Documents and remittance materials Client provides are accurate and lawfully usable for these purposes.
- If a third-party factor holds rights under an NOA, Client has disclosed that arrangement and provided required NOA documentation.

4. Duration

This authorization starts on the MSA Effective Date and continues until the MSA terminates, or until Client revokes it in writing (email sufficient). Credyx may notify brokers/payors of revocation. Revocation may limit or end Credyx's ability to perform Managed or invoicing Services. Fees already incurred remain payable.

5. Broker-facing notice

Credyx may send brokers and payors a separate Notice to Broker / Payor - Authorization of Credyx A/R Solutions summarizing this authority, remittance rules, that freight payments must not be sent to Credyx, and that the notice remains effective until the broker receives written revocation. That notice is for broker/payor communication; this Exhibit B remains the Client authorization under the MSA.

6. Acknowledgement

Client acknowledges brokers may rely on this authorization and on remittance materials supplied by Client. Credyx's fee relationship remains solely between Credyx and Client under Exhibit A.
